Vacancy for Trustees

James Marshall Foundation CIO has been supporting young people in the community for almost 300 years. The aim of the Charity is to assist young people under 25 years with educational or career-related activities and enable them to have opportunities that otherwise would not be available. Grants of over £1,000,000 have been awarded during the last six years.

The Foundation is run by a Board of Trustees, all of whom should either live or work in Harpenden or Wheathampstead. We are looking for up to three new Trustees to join the team, individuals with enthusiasm to carry on this legacy for the benefit of local young people.

If so, please visit our website at www.jamesmarshallfoundation.co.uk to understand more about the Foundation and contact our Foundation Manager, Pauline Whiting, on 01582 760735 or email office@jamesmarshallfoundation.co.uk for more information.
