

KWS Newsletter - Issue 71 - 30.6.23

Heads up

As we conclude an ambitious and very successful Activities Week, Sports Day(s) and PSHE day, we can happily reflect on the massive amount of inclusive participation across our student body. There is lots to read further down this newsletter about the individual trips but the key point is the range offered - Gothic trip to Whitby; Escape Room; Golden Hind; Legoland; Performing Arts trip to the West End across 4 days incorporating Phantom of the Opera, Comedy of Errors, The Lion King and Mrs Doubtfire and a range of workshops with industry professionals; Stanborough Lake; Thorpe Park and the list goes on. The feedback from students and staff has been tremendous. It takes a lot of planning and allocation of resources and people to make the trips work and I'm delighted that staff are more than willing to support our students having opportunities to engage with such a range of experiences.

Then it was Sports Day(s), spread across two days this year as we have grown as a school. It isn't just an opportunity for our elite athletic students to show us how good they are, this is a fully inclusive sports day with the element of equitable competition built in. As well as the expected events such as long jump, 100 metres etc there are points available for participation in the Reach test; Press Ups; Sit Ups; Illinois Agility test; Standing Stork test, Beat the Goalie and much more. KWS Sports Day is the blueprint for how an inclusive and competitive sports day should be organised and staff and students are very proud of that and I can't thank our PE department enough for their work.

A note went to all parents this week asking for any volunteers to help with our Period 7 next term. Please do consider this if you have an expertise, skill or passion to pass on to the next generation. A staff member will always be present with you, so you can focus on enthusing and engaging. Please reply to Z.Coomber@kwschool.co.uk

The calendar for next year will be on our school website shortly. Though events may well be added as we go, the calendar gives a good picture of term times and events throughout the next academic year.

Tony Smith Headteacher

I am writing to inform you about the plans Katherine Warington School has put in place for the two days of strike action by the NEU, on Wednesday 5th and Friday 7th July. Please be advised that the plans outlined below will apply to these dates only and we will address each subsequent day of strike action individually. As I mentioned in my previous communication, there will be some disruption to learning on these days and the plans we have at KWS will be different to those in other schools. The reason for this is that a school's plans will be dictated by the number of NEU members amongst their staff. I would also reiterate that staff who are striking can't be directed to set work for their classes nor can colleagues in any professional association or union be asked to cover striking colleagues. I fully support a colleague's right to participate in legal industrial action and to follow the guidance issued to them if they are not striking. As a Headteacher I have tried to provide the best solution I can for students in these challenging circumstances.

KWS will be open on both of the strike days. We will be open for:

• Year 10 and Year 9 on both strike days. We will not be open to Years 7 and 8 on either strike day.

As we will not know exactly who is striking until the morning of the strike days, I cannot give you an individual breakdown of what the day will look like for your child. However, if a teacher is in and teaching then students will be in that lesson, in accordance with their normal timetable. If their teacher is striking and a particular lesson(s) is impacted then for that period, they will be supervised in a communal area. They will be directed to an allocated space where they will be supervised and access work on their chromebooks. The work available will be Bedrock (English), Sparx Maths, SENECA (Science), Skills Builder (Careers), Drama National Theatre productions, our online library, Cognito, and super curricular activities in each subject. In addition, for students who wish to participate in additional sports, there will be opportunities throughout the day.

Students can come into school in PE kit if they wish. All students will need a fully charged chromebook and headphones. Breakfast, break and lunch with food available to purchase will run as normal. The timings of the school day will not change.

I hope these arrangements are clear and we will ensure that we get through these days with minimum disruption. Thankfully our Activities Week and Sports Day were unaffected. However, these strike days do fall next week when Monday is an Inset Day, so the week will be quite fractured for some students I'm afraid. I thank you all in advance for your support.

Safeguarding: Vaping

The number of 11-17-year-olds using vapes in Great Britain has seen an increase, reaching 7% in 2022 compared to 4% in 2020. While this trend is worrying, it's important to note that most vaping among young people is experimental. Regular vaping is primarily limited to children who currently smoke or have a history of smoking. The surge in youth vaping coincides with the introduction of inexpensive and appealing disposable vapes. These products have gained popularity among children and young adults, largely due to extensive promotion on social media. National and local efforts are underway to tackle the issues.

Hertfordshire County Council have developed this leaflet for parents/carers which includes a section on how to have conversations with your child about vaping. Please do not hesitate to reach out to the pastoral team for more support and advice.

Year 10 Macbeth Performance

On Monday we welcomed our wonderful Year 10 students back from Work Experience with a one-man performance of Macbeth. This is a key GCSE text that we will be studying early in Year 11 and as Shakespeare is famously complex we thought it would be good to get an idea of the play in a fun and engaging way. Anthony ...
